La Musica

LaMusica Independent Theatre Group was established by Nora Amin (actress, dancer, writer and theatre director) in the year 2000 in Cairo, with the aim to experiment with new theatre styles combining physical expression, movement, mime and dance with non-traditional forms of acting and communicating with the spectators.

The idea was born after Nora's several years of working at Manager arts centre at the Cairo Opera, both as an actress and dancer, and within different groups of independent theatre all dreaming of developing the Egyptian theatre, breaking away from the institution and using art as a powerful tool for political and social change. The group went through a long period of research before it created its own signature, the research included Nora Amin's own lab work and exploration through her solo work which was later influential in devising the ensemble work of the group.

During the period of 11 years the group produced 34 theatre productions mostly directed and choreographed by Nora Amin, it is considered to be the largest body of work the Egyptian independent theatre scene. LaMusica group started working on its international profile soon after its launch, the group is considered today to be Egypt's most touring theatre company especially that it introduced Egyptian theatre in countries where it has never been before, (i.e. Bangladesh, India, Ukraine, Denmark, Malta, Argentina among others).

In the year 2007 Nora Amin moved to Alexandria and focused more on creating a new ensemble (12 artists) able to work through the whole year -and sometimes independently from Nora Amin- and trained to produce every year three new productions to be presented in Alexandria and other cities in Egypt. Therefore it has been the policy of the group since 2007 to work on national diffusion and break the centralization of the capital city, the group has produced since then 12 productions which were all designed to be presented in three other main cities besides Alexandria (i.e. Port Said, Minia, Cairo).
